Councillor Trickett referred to the number of community groups working in the ward that engaged with many different residents in relation to different subjects/issues. However the Allens Croft estate had fewer community groups but the PTA of the school wanted to be more involved and councillors would be working to put them in touch with other groups so that they could also be involved with the ward plan

The History Group had asked to include a paragraph on the history of Brandwood & Kings Heath in the ward plan

The group then considered the following questions & made comments;
